

GrowBiz Announces Neil Bradbrook as Speaker at Online XChange Networking Event

Neil Bradbrook, managing director of Ahead Business Consulting, is set to speak at Thursday's free online XChange Networking Event, hosted by Perthshire-based rural enterprise support organisation, GrowBiz.

Following on from the enormous success of the online April XChange Networking Event, which hosted director of Can Do Places and Spaces Iain Scott, GrowBiz has announced Neil Bradbrook as the speaker for May's meeting. As managing director of Ahead Business Consulting, Neil is an expert in adaptive business strategy. He aims to help organisations to identify new opportunities and find creative yet practical solutions to their problems.

GrowBiz carefully plans events around what will be most inspirational and informative in the current business climate and this will be no different. Neil will focus on how to remove some of the layers of uncertainty around the current crisis and focus on the areas you can control. He will show you the simple questions you should ask to understand if, and how much, you need to adapt your business, and also how to look for the new opportunities it presents. He will walk you through a real-life business example and there will be a Q&A session for you to ask your own questions.

Ahead Business Consulting believes all businesses and organisations, whether big or small, deserve top quality consulting opportunities. They have been helping numerous organisations to assess and adapt their business models to help them get back to work and be confident that they will come through this crisis. So whatever the size of your business, expect clear, practical and effective advice from Neil at this transformative event, which will leave you feeling enthused and ready to start or continue on your way towards long-term success.

The informal and friendly meeting takes place on Thursday 28 May from 18:00 – 20:00 and will be held online using Zoom. There will be plenty of time to network, so bring a glass of wine (or other beverage) with you and come prepared to share your thoughts and ideas with other like-minded entrepreneurs.

If you need assistance with setting up and using Zoom then the GrowBiz team will be more than happy to help, you can contact them at connect@growbiz.co.uk There will also be an opportunity to get comfortable with using the platform before the session begins.
